Final Exam Cell Phone Policy

We recognize that cell/smart phones are regularly brought into school. In order to maintain the security of our testing sessions, as well as to reduce distractions for others, we are discouraging students from bringing their phones with them to school during final exams

Should your student absolutely need to bring their phone, here is the expectation:

- Devices should be turned off and stored in their lockers.

- If a device comes into the classroom, students will be directed to turn them off and turn them in during the testing session.
- At the end of the testing session, they will receive them back.
- Any student who has a phone out during an active testing session may receive disciplinary action in accordance with our student code of conduct, possibly resulting in an out of school suspension, as well as possible invalidation of that exam.

We recognize this may be an inconvenience, but feel confident that this will better support a more secure and focused testing atmosphere. As a reminder, Dearborn High School is NOT responsible for lost or stolen cell phones or electronic devices.
